FORWORD

Here is a brief record of the Cure Family, and near relatives, including names, location of births, marriages and deaths as accurately as could be ascertained.

For any incomplete part, blank spaces are provided to be filled with the necessary information.

The Cures have nearly all been farmers and pioneers in the settlement of new territory.

Coming from the different lands of Europe, in the early settlement of America, they have followed the western tide of civilization as pioneers of many states.

The record of our ancestors is a clean one and worthy of emulation of present and future generations. Their greatness lies in Duties Well Done, Honesty of Purpose, Frugality and Industry.

Any further facts or corrections concerning the family will be thankfully received by

Yours very truly,

C. E. CARNAHAN,

Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, November 1, 1936.
